

BIOLA UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY STANDARDS

The Biola Community (p. 1)

Biola University is a unique environment committed to following Christ's example of loving others. We believe that community is born of other-centered practices, strengthened when members:

- Live with integrity.
- Practice confession and forgiveness.
- Attempt to live in reconciled relationships.
- Accept responsibility for their actions and words.
- Submit to biblical instruction.

As men and women of Biola, we do not ask each other to be perfect people, but rather to be people in active pursuit of integrity and growth, in dynamic relationships with the living God and with others in community. Those in leadership at Biola are eager to serve by coming alongside you and offering support, accountability, and, when necessary, loving discipline, in order to help you grow. We affirm our commitment to serve you with your best in mind.

The Standards (p. 1)

We at Biola uphold integrity as a core value of our community. Members are expected to demonstrate a commitment to the value of integrity in word and deed and to take responsibility for their own violations of behavioral guidelines.

We at Biola recognize that Scripture condemns sins of the heart, such as covetousness, selfishness, ambition, envy, greed, lust and pride. By their very nature, these sins are more difficult to discern, but because they lie at the heart of relationships, they are of central concern to the Biola community. We confess and repent of these sins as we become aware.

Furthermore, while students at Biola commit to refrain from practices that Scripture forbids, some of our Community Standards and policies ask that you give up individual freedoms for the purpose of character development and the creation of a healthy, vibrant Christian community. A complete published statement of the standards can be found in the Biola Student Handbook (<https://www.biola.edu/student-handbooks/>).

Biola students have chosen, freely and willingly, to abide by these standards. We regard any violation of these standards to be a breach of integrity, since each member has voluntarily chosen to associate with the Biola community and to accept, uphold and live by these standards. The university reserves the right to refuse admittance and/or dismiss any person who does not conform either to the stated guidelines and regulations governing student conduct, or to the expressed principles, policies and expectations of the university. The university also reserves the right to take action against an individual for violating the standards regardless of how much time has passed since the violation.

When The Standards Apply (p. 1)

The Biola Community Standards apply to all students:

- While enrolled in classes for the Fall Semester (including Thanksgiving), Spring Semester (including Spring Break), and Summer Session.
- Who are representing the Biola Community in any off-campus events, such as mission trips, internships, study abroad, and athletic or academic activities.
- Who are not enrolled in classes but are living on campus.

A complete published statement of the standards can be found in the Biola Student Handbook (<https://www.biola.edu/student-handbooks/>).
